Partnering with NatureBridge

By partnering with NatureBridge, you will play a crucial role in connecting youth to the natural world. Developing the next generation of environmental stewards is more important than ever.

Investing in NatureBridge will impact the tens of thousands of young people we serve each year. NatureBridge is an investment you can feel good about: Your support can help create a groundswell of youth engagement to protect our natural resources and treasures for years to come.

At NatureBridge, we are committed to:

Experiential Education: We lead the field in overnight, multi-day environmental science education, guided by the latest research and a team of expert scientists and researchers.

Increasing Access: We believe every young person should have access to the outdoors and our programs, regardless of financial ability. We provide nearly 50 percent of participating schools with financial support.

Building Character: We help young people develop knowledge, skills and character to grow into caring, inquisitive and informed adults.

Inspiring Stewardship: We are committed to creating new leaders and stewards who truly represent the diversity of our nation and who have the skills to advance their passion for championing the natural world.
